

My main contributions to the project included forming the group at the beginning of the project, organizing group meetings, coordinating tasks, and helping to keep the project on schedule. I selected and evaluated the dataset, set up parts of the project and Quarto website structure, and conducted the migration dynamics analysis, including the corresponding figures and summary tables. I also contributed to the EU/non-EU analysis and helped structure and write the final report. In addition, I wrote the group reflection and supported the integration of the different analyses into a coherent final project.
